

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Tuesday, Sept. 29

1998

Superfund Activities at Center Focus of Lunch-n-Learn Tues.

Activities involving the federal Superfund Cleanup Program at Marshall Center and the proposed plan for 22 Center sites will be the topic of a Lunch-n-Learn discussion from noon-12:45 p.m. Tuesday in Bldg. 4200, Morris Auditorium. The discussion will include descriptions of and investigative techniques used at Superfund sites, and a description of 22 of the 95 sites within the Center where no further action is proposed.

Hispanic Heritage Month Luncheon, 11 a.m. Wed. at Redstone Officers Club

Toastmasters Mtg. 11:30 a.m. Tues., Bldg. 4610, Cafeteria Conference Rm.

Marshall Engineer to Speak on 'Solar Thermal Propulsion' Wed.

"Solar Thermal Propulsion" will be the topic of a presentation hosted by the Alabama Solar Association at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Huntsville Main Library Auditorium. Speakers will include Leslie Curtis, manager for In-Space Transportation Projects, Advanced Space Transportation Program Office at Marshall.